

Kenneth Young & ChildThis image was identified on the glass negative as being Kenneth Young and child. As is so often the case, little more information was available but the image is very poignant and representative of young men separated from equally young families.

